These two boys had real fun with the plastic toys on display at the Altona Petrochemical Stand at the recent Industry Fair in the Williamstown Town Hall. Altona was well represented by the five companies of the complex: The Altona Petrochemical Company Pty. Ltd.; Union Carbide Australia Limited; Australian Synthetic Rubber Company Limited; C.S.R.C. Dow Pty. Ltd. and B. F. Goodrich C.S.R. Chemicals Pty. Ltd.

Shire President To Turn First Sod

The Shire Secretary informed Councillors at last Tuesday's meeting that Clements Langford Pty. Ltd. would commence work on the construction of the new municipal offices on Monday, 23rd July. The company hopes to complete the office block by Christmas and the whole project by Easter, 1963.

Cr. McIntosh said this was a big milestone in the history of Altona. It was the custom at the commencement of such projects for the Lord Mayor or other high dignitary to turn the first sod. He moved that the Shire President, Cr. R. J. Cooper, J.P., be given this honour. Seconded by Cr. Cresser, the motion was carried.

PORTRAIT OF HER MAJESTY FOR WELFARE CENTRES

At last Tuesday's Council meeting Cr. V. Hearn moved that a portrait of the Queen be presented to the Infant Welfare Centres. As the Altona and District Hospital was not under the jurisdiction of the Council he did not feel the Council should present a portrait to the hospital. Cr. S. McIntosh seconded the motion, which was carried. This matter had been made an Order of the Day from the previous Council meeting.

WELL-KNOWN FIRM MAKES LARGE DONATIONS

R. J. Gilbertson Pty. Ltd., well-known firm in Altona, has made large donations to the Altona and District Hospital and the Altona Elderly Citizens' Club.

Announcing this at Tuesday's Council meeting, the Shire Secretary, Mr. J. Waters, said cheques for £250 each had been received.

Cr. W. Cresser moved that Cr. Ginnifer, Council Representative on the Hospital Committee, and Cr. V. Hearn, Council Representative on the Elderly Citizens' Committee, present the cheques on behalf of R. J. Gilbertson.

ALTONA ELDERLY-CITIZENS

The monthly dance will take place this Saturday at 8.00 p.m. at the club rooms, Sargood St.

Official Status To Be Awarded To Altona Apex Charter Dinner This Saturday

The final presentation of Charter to the Apex Club of Altona will take place on Saturday, July 21, in the Petroleum Refineries Auditorium and Cafeteria. It is expected that 230 people will be present to help the Altona club celebrate this special occasion, firstly at a dinner and later at a social.

Since an Apex club is not formally accepted into the Association of Apex Clubs until that club has proved itself worthy of the Aims and Ideals of Apex, the Altona club members can be justly proud that their work in the community in the past 18 months has been recognised by the Association, in that the club has now been granted their Charter.

The Association of Apex Clubs' President, Graham Grose, will be in attendance to present the Charter to the Altona President, Eric Symons.

Included in the list of distinguished guests and visitors attending will be Mr. R. G. Crick, M.L.A., Member for Grant, and Mrs. Crick; Mr. R. B. Price, Managing Director of Petroleum Refineries (Australia), and Mrs. Price; Altona Shire President, Cr. R. J. Cooper, J.P., and Shire Councillors; Shire Secretary, Mr. J. W. Waters, and Mrs. Waters; Cr. and Mrs. P. Sadler; Cr. and Mrs. M. Robertson, representing the City of Williamstown. Apex will be strongly represented by Association officials and members of 17 clubs from the metropolitan and country areas. ooo

COUNCILLOR DISAPPOINTED WITH REDUCED BUSES

Cr. V. Hearn said at last week's Council meeting that he was disappointed to read in the local press that owing to the withdrawal of the subsidy from the Refinery the proprietor of the Altona Bus Lines had reduced the number of buses operating on the Altona to Williamstown route.

It was the desire of the Council to obtain a better bus service, but this would mean a worse one. The Tramways Board apparently was not at all interested in running buses in the Altona area.

Cr. Hearn said he would like the matter raised at the next Council meeting, and that Mr. J. Joiner be invited to attend and give his views.

No Court House For North Altona

The Crown Law Office has turned down a recommendation from the Shire Council to acquire a block of land in Cherry Avenue for the erection of a Court House.

In a letter to the Council the Crown Law Authorities stated that the building programme already embarked upon would not permit the erection of a Court House in Altona for many years.

At last Tuesday's Council meeting the Shire Secretary, Mr. J. Waters, said he was very disappointed with the decision. The land adjoined the site of a proposed Police Station, and he felt it was an ideal site for a Court House. Altona would ultimately require a Court House, and such a good position may not be available later on. The Kingsville Police had expressed approval of the plan.

Cr. W. Cresser moved that a further letter be sent to the Crown Law Office, and Cr. S. McIntosh seconded the motion.

In support, Cr. J. Ginnifer suggested that Kingsville Police be asked to express approval of Council's recommendation. The motion was carried.

Hockey Club Stages Successful Tournament

Altona Hockey Club staged the first ever Under Age Hockey Lightning Premiership in Victoria on Sunday, July 15, at Grant Reserve.

Commencing at 10.00 a.m. and running through to 5.30 p.m., the tournament attracted 16 teams from as far afield as Geelong, Dandenong and Croydon.

With so many teams entering the competition had to be split into two divisions. In the final of Division 1, Footscray defeated Greensborough and won the R. Ford Perpetual Trophy. In Div. 2, Moorabbin defeated Altona to carry off the President's Perpetual Trophy. Both trophies were donated by the Secretary and President of the Altona Hockey Club. Eleven small replicas of each of these trophies were presented to the winning players.

The President of the Shire of Altona, Cr. R. J. Cooper, made the presentations and congratulated all clubs on the fine display.

The Chairman of the Victorian Under Age Hockey Association, Mr. Gawthorn, was also present and said the standard of play was very good.

The players and officials were afterwards entertained to tea in the Youth Hall by courtesy of the Youth Club. The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Hockey Club were responsible for the catering arrangements.

So successful was the tournament that the Altona Hockey Club intend to stage it as an annual event.

LIGHTNING PREMIERSHIP

Altona won their opening game against Strathmore on a count of penalty corners. The game was not a good one, too many players were suffering from big occasion nerves and the result may have been a lucky one for the locals.

The second game against Geelong was more what the supporters had hoped to see, all players were gaining confidence. Graham Page and Peter Hunter were getting the ball well down the field to their wings and Terry Woodcock gave a nice pass to Ross Ford who made no mistake and Altona had the game.

The semi-final against Dandenong was one of the best games of the carnival, both teams hit the ball cleanly and some of Altona's clearing passes were first-class. Terry Woodcock was playing a fine game and a nice pass to Ivan Neale saw Altona take the lead, seconds later J. Hunter brought a roar from the Altona supporters with a neat goal that gave Altona the game.

The grand-final was the best junior game ever witnessed at Altona. Both teams played fast, hard hitting hockey and at half time the score was nil all.

After the change Altona attacked through Spackman on the wing, who was playing his best game of the carnival, and getting great support from Terry Woodcock in the centre. But Moorabbin were able to clear down field and from an infringement by an Altona player were able to score a goal from a penalty push and win the game.

LAST SATURDAY'S MATCHES (BY CENTRE)

A Reserve played Essendon at home and gave their supporters plenty of thrills in a game that resulted in a 3 all draw. Five of the 6 goals scored were in the second half and 3 goals in the last five minutes.

The youthful Essendon side had the edge on Altona early in the game but as the clock ticked on Altona took control and would have won in another few minutes.

Dennis Bartlett found the net early in the second half with a nice piece of play and Bill Smith followed up with one from a scrum in the circle.

Essendon scored from a penalty push and looked to have the game won when Kevin Burgess found the net with a goal.

Best players: Eric McCauley and Doug Carruthers.

B Grade continued their winning run with a 2-0 victory over Strathmore. This win places Altona in second place on the ladder, four points clear of Strathmore, who are third, and assures them of their double chance for the premiership.

Best players: Barry Smith, C. Turner and Keith Smith. Goal scorers: S. Ashman and K. Smith.

C Grade were defeated 4-2 by Strathmore. Altona are still weak around the circle and until they get players going in on the ball in this area they cannot expect to win games.

Under 16 gave a disappointing display again, this time at Brunswick.

As a spectacle the game was first class every where but in the circle. Altona had 11 shots for 1 goal by Ivan Neal. Brunswick had four shots for 2 goals and that sums up the game.

Best players: Peter Hunter, I. Neal, Ross Ford and Jeremy Hunter.

LADIES' HOCKEY

E Grade had an easy win over Ivanhoe in a game that Altona should have doubled their score. Virginia Wing at inside right gave a good display and Zenka Pripic at inside left finished off some nice passes from Carol Hayes who dominated the half line.

Goal scorers: Zenka Pripic 3, Rhonda Kinnaburgh 2.

NATURALIZATION

CEREMONY ON 30 JULY

The Immigration Department has advised the Shire Council that it holds twenty-four certificates for naturalization and requests that a ceremony be arranged within the next few weeks.

The Shire Secretary said one resident lives in Altona East, fourteen in Altona, and nine at Altona North. As the majority live in Altona he recommended to Council that the ceremony take place in Altona.

Cr. Hearn moved that the ceremony take place on Monday, 30th July, and be held in the Life-Savers' Hall. Cr. der Dulk seconded the motion, which was carried.

Altona Youth Fined £50

William Charles Verlander, 19 years, apprentice plumber, of 28 Davies Street, Altona, was charged that on the 30th June, 1962, at Newport he did drive a motor car whilst under the influence of intoxicating liquor as to make him incapable. He pleaded not guilty and was represented by Mr. Lennon.

Const. J. PHEMISTER, of Williamstown, said that at 10.40 p.m. on June 29, 1962, as a result of a complaint, he went to the Esplanade, Altona, near Maidstone Street. He there saw a large marquee tent had been erected on the foreshore. Around this marquee were approximately twenty young men drinking beer from glasses. A nine-gallon barrel was in the corner of the tent with a person acting as barman.

He spoke to the person in charge of the party and, while doing so, Verlander came up and began to interject. He was aggressive and intoxicated. He asked defendant if he had a car there and he said no. He then told him anybody in his condition should not drive a motor car and, if he had any ideas of doing so, not to. Defendant replied, "I know what's good for me." He left the scene about 11.15 p.m. and defendant was still there, with a glass of beer in his hand. He saw him later at the Williamstown Police Station about 12.30 p.m. and considered him to be under the influence as to be incapable of driving then.

Const. J. GLEESON, of the Accident Appreciation Squad, said that at 12.20 a.m. on June 30, 1962, he saw a motor car standing stationary on the south side of the Newport overpass. This vehicle was facing the wrong way in the roundabout. There were signs there showing "keep left".

As he approached he saw some youths standing on the roadway. Defendant and another youth appeared to be arguing. He saw them hit each other on the chest. He got out of the police car and asked defendant what the argument was about. He replied, "What's it got to do with you?"

Constable Gleeson said he noticed Verlander's breath smelt strongly of intoxicating liquor, his speech was slurred and he was unsteady on his feet.

He asked him who owned the car, and defendant said, "What's it got to do with you?" When he again asked him, Verlander said he did, and was going to move it then. He told him he was in no condition to drive a car and asked him if he had driven it and left it in that position. Verlander said, "Yes, I just got out of it."

He then asked him to accompany him to the police station and Verlander said he would go with him but warned him not to drive his car. He was then placed in the police car and on arrival at the Newport station defendant, on getting out, placed both hands on top of the car door to steady himself and was assisted getting out of the car.

Verlander told police there he had had about eight or ten beers and went to a dance at Newmarket Town Hall. Told there was no town hall there he said he always thought there was, but it could have been an old theatre. He had also been to a party at Altona. He had beer at the dance as well as at the party—about 1½ bottles at the dance and several drinks at the party as they had a barrel there. He had his first drink about 7 p.m. and the last about 11 p.m.

Asked why he drove the wrong way at the roundabout defendant said he didn't know; he just wanted to go that way.

He was asked to do several sobriety tests, and was unable to do most of them. When asked what the argument was about earlier, he said it was something that had been going on for a long time. When asked if it could be because they had had too much to drink, he said, "I suppose so." He said he was not a regular drinker and hardly drank at all.

Mr. LENNON submitted that there was no case to answer as no evidence had been given as to defendant's inability to drive, only the opinion of the policeman.

Mr. P. J. O'CONNOR, S.M., found there was a case to answer and Verlander then gave evidence.

He said he was at the marquee about 7.30 p.m. and left about 7.45 p.m. He was at Newmarket later and was not at Altona when the policeman said he spoke to him there. He had not had drinks at Altona but had taken two bottles from there with him and had them outside the dance. He considered he was not fit to drive and asked Gary EWEN if he would drive him home. He could not, and John ROSE then agreed to drive him to Newport and Ewan was to pick him up there and take him to Altona.

Rose drove him to the overpass with two other boys in the car also. Rose asked him where he wanted the car parked and he told him under the light. He was arguing with Rose about leaving the car in that position when the police arrived. Gleeson asked him who was in charge of the car and he told him he was. He was put in the back of the police car and, while there, Gary Ewan came up and asked him if he wanted the car taken home or shifted. Gleeson told him to leave it alone. He was with Norman Cook and Peter Green in the car on the way to Newport.

John ROSE, apprentice plumber, of 30 Farm Street, Newport, said he drove Verlander's car from Newmarket to Newport. He first saw him at the dance late, about 11 p.m., when he asked him if he would drive him home. He told Verlander he would go to Newport only, as he lived there, and was then told Gary Ewan was going to drive it the rest of the way. He left just before Const. Gleeson came.

NEW ALTONA SCOUT GROUP

The meeting held at the North Altona Youth Hall was attended by 15 parents. Mr. George Schmautz, 111 Mills Rd., West Newport, was appointed Chairman and Mr. Tom Chapman, 257 Blackshaws Rd., Spotswood, was appointed Secretary. Members were asked to advise the District Commissioner, Ralph Schutt, 60 Geelong Rd., Footscray, of anybody in the area whom they thought would make a good leader, either young men for the Scout Troop and, or young ladies, for the Cub Pack.

Peter William GREEN, of 35 Sargood Street, Altona, said he was a passenger in the car driven by Rose from Newmarket. He arrived at the party at Altona with Verlander about 8 p.m. and left about 8.45 p.m. and went to the dance. Verlander went outside at the dance about 9.30 p.m. and didn't come back until about 11.30 p.m.

Norman John COOK, apprentice boilermaker, of 230 Nellie Street, Altona, said he had not been to a dance but was at a party at Altona and then went in the car driven by Verlander to Newport.

Mr. P. J. O'Connor said he hoped steps would be taken to proceed against somebody for perjury. It would be a pity if the matter was just left there.

He fined Verlander £50 and cancelled his licence to drive. He ordered that he was not to be again licensed except by order of a magistrate sitting alone in a Court of Petty Sessions.

Bye, Bye Beehive!

Because the up-coming fashions we'll be wearing from now on are carefree and feminine, last year's beehive hairdo has finally buzzed off—and with it has gone our long tresses and the tortuous back-combing which was so bad for our hair. The new fashions will still demand a "more-hair" look, but the headaches have all been removed, because it will be achieved in an entirely different manner.

THE TREND IS TO SHORT HAIR

The new look is achieved with short hair, cleverly cut and shaped, and with a new technique in permanent waving called a "body" perm. This is a soft, easy-to-care-for permanent wave which gives the hair fullness and, as the name implies, enough "body" to carry a bouffant style without backcombing or teasing.

The type of hair style is infinitely more versatile than the old beehive, and it can be adapted to suit women of all ages and all types.

PERMANENT WAVE IMPROVEMENTS

The trend in permanent waving has been changing for some time now, and the old conception of a perm — tight masses of frizzy curls—is history. The need now is for permanent movement rather than permanent curl — the decree is softness, and Australian scientists who specialise in hair beauty products have fulfilled this decree by producing cold waves which enable professional hairdressers to give every client exactly the type of permanent wave she desires. A natural look is the fundamental requirement, and this is assured with such permanents as Marigny and Phonoma Cold

Waves, which have specially gentle solutions and which contain vitalising and nourishing agents to protect the hair. There are still inferior cold wave solutions on the market, of course, supplied by backyard bulk manufacturers, so it is always wise, when having a permanent wave, to make sure that it is done with a branded product, which is supplied in hermetically sealed, one-service bottles. This ensures that the solution and neutraliser used are factory fresh, and that deterioration cannot occur, as often happens with bulk-supplied solutions.

COLOUR IS PART OF HAIR FASHION

Along with the soft look in permanent waving, colour has become an essential part of a fashionable hairstyle.

The trend to colour as part of an attractive woman's make-up began in Europe, and the largest manufacturer of hair cosmetics in the world is L'Oreal of Paris, which was founded half a century ago and now has plants in thirty-five countries, including Australia, where the world's best hair colourings are now manufactured under license by Marigny, the house of hair beauty.

DYEING IS OUT

Hairdressers no longer talk of hair colouring as "dyeing"—in fact, the word "dye" has been replaced in the hairdressing vocabulary by the phrase "hair colour cosmetics". And the hairdressers are right, because hair colouring does as much—or more—for a woman's appearance as lipstick or eye shadow.

Hair colouring can be anything you want it to be. It can be temporary colour—a rinse for a special occasion which will vanish at the next shampoo. It can be semi-permanent colour—for glamour which lasts five or six weeks. Or it can be permanent colour—to transform drab hair and banish age-making grey hairs.

Your hairdresser has a wide selection of all types of hair colourings, in shades which range from the palest, most delicate pastels right through to jet black.

Your hairdresser can open the door to new beauty for you with the wonderful hair colouring products he has at his disposal and his own skill and "colour sense". He knows which of the many, many shades available is right for you so don't insist on a certain colour, because it suits one of your friends to perfection. Your hairdresser is an expert—he has gone to the trouble of studying this art of hair colouring—and his training and knowledge enable him to judge accurately which colours will be most flattering for you, so instead of saying you want your hair to be a certain colour, just tell him you want to look younger, prettier and smarter—then relax and enjoy being pampered while the transformation takes place!

HAIR COLOURS DO NOT HARM THE HAIR

There is no need to fear that hair colourings may damage the hair—on the contrary, modern products contain special vitalising ingredients and colour treatments actually improve the condition of the hair, and you'll find your hair looks healthier, glossier and silkier than it has ever been.

Having your hair coloured for the first time is a little like learning to swim. You envy those who have already taken the plunge—and are obviously enjoying it—but you lack that last little bit of courage. If this is how you feel, try a temporary colour rinse, then, if you don't like it, you can wash it out right away! But you'll love it!

The Commonwealth Bank Story, 1912-1962

On July 15, 1962, the Commonwealth Bank celebrated its Golden Jubilee.

Fifty years are less than an average lifetime, but the last fifty, which included two world wars and a major depression, were among the most momentous in this country's history.

When the Bank's half-century began, just before World War I, about 4,500,000 Australians, almost entirely dependent on the land, peopled an area the same size as the United States.

Today our population, boosted by one of the most spectacular migration flows in modern history, is nearly 11,000,000, and more of our people work in factories than on stations and farms.

In many of the great changes and developments of the past fifty years the Commonwealth Bank has played a significant part among the sculptors of our economic history.

The genesis of the first Commonwealth Bank was before Federation when the Australian Constitution was being written, but a "Commonwealth Bank" was preached before and during the first Federal election by Mr. King O'Malley, the American migrant who was elected for Tasmania and later became a Federal Minister.

In the event it was the Prime Minister (Mr. Andrew Fisher) who introduced the Commonwealth Bank Bill into Federal Parliament, in 1911.

FIRST OPENED IN 1912

The Bank itself was born on July 15, 1912, when Mr. (later Sir) Denison Miller, the first Governor of the Commonwealth Bank of Australia, opened the first branch of the Bank's Savings Department at Modern Chambers, 317 Collins Street, Melbourne, and at 489 agencies at Money Order Post Offices in Victoria.

At this time twenty-three banks, capital £28,000,000, were operating in Australia, but the Commonwealth began with no capital. It borrowed £10,000 for opening expenses from the Treasury and repaid it very shortly afterwards.

Denison Samuel King Miller, who was born at Wollongong (south of Sydney) and brought up at Deniliquin (N.S.W. Riverina), where his father was the school's headmaster, began work as Governor, at £4,000 a year, on June 1, 1912, and in six weeks had performed the colossal task of personally interviewing and engaging staff, establishing world agencies, finding premises and opening the Bank.

ONLY ELEVEN EMPLOYEES

The Commonwealth Bank began with eleven employees, including two typists and a messenger. The Prime Minister (Mr. Andrew Fisher) was its first customer, and accounts on the first day totalled 519 and deposits £8,325.

On January 20, 1913, the Commonwealth Bank opened its General Banking Division in Sydney — at temporary premises in Stanway House, King Street — and also at Melbourne, infant Canberra, Brisbane, Townsville, Adelaide, Perth Hobart and London. And four months later the Prime Minister laid the foundation stone of the Bank's Head Office at the corner of Martin Place and Pitt Street, Sydney. Under the stone were two glass jars containing documents, speeches and newspapers of the day and gold, silver and copper coin and notes worth, then, £188/10/3.

ALTONA BRANCH OPENED

The Altona Branch of the Commonwealth was first opened in April, 1959, according to the manager, Mr. Johnston, so that the Bank has been linked with development of this area for 3½ years.

The Commonwealth Bank had hardly begun when World War I started, yet in the next five years, when the Bank was known as the Diggers' Friend because of its service to soldiers everywhere, including prisoners-of-war, Australia could not have done without it.

Between Prime Minister Fisher's "last man and last straws" speech in 1915 and many under Adolf Hitler, and 1921, the Bank floated for the Government seven war loans and three peace loans which brought in more than £250,000,000. It played a leading part in financing wheat, wool and other pools. It sent officers with £5,000 in gold to open a branch in Cairo, but soldiers in the Middle East were then transferring to France and England and the officers and their gold went on to London where the ground floor of Australia House became the Commonwealth Bank.

FINANCED MERCHANT FLEET
In 1916 the Commonwealth Bank handled the financial side of the dramatic and secret purchase by the Prime Minister (Mr. W. M. Hughes) of a fleet of merchant ships to keep Australia's trade and commerce alive.

Wool and food stocks were building up in Australia because of lack of ships. So Billy Hughes contacted a shipping agent in London and barked, "Buy up to 30 ships". The agent bought 15 for £2,052,654, a bargain, and so the Commonwealth Shipping Line was born.

Billy Hughes, who attended the Versailles Peace Conference, was responsible for another small slice of Bank history. While at Versailles he called for an expert financial adviser, and so the London manager of the Commonwealth Bank, alerted at a few minutes' notice, became probably the world's first banker to fly — from Hendon Aerodrome to Paris in a warplane.

£4,000,000 LOANED FOR HOUSING

When World War I ended, the Bank continued its aid to the Digger. It built 1,777 houses and bought 5,179 for returned soldiers, at a total cost of more than £4,000,000, and also started an insurance scheme for war service homes. The first house, built in 1919 in 35 days for only £500 at Canterbury, Sydney, was for Driver T. H. Baxter. The builder, believe it or not, was Mr. Christopher Wren.

In the "Mad Twenties", decade of jazz, the "talkies", the rise of Dictator Mussolini in Italy, record-breaking flights like Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith's first crossing of the Pacific, the Commonwealth Bank began to change.

In 1924, a year after the death of Sir Denison Miller, a Board of Directors was constituted to direct the officers of the Bank — the Board comprised the Governor, the Secretary to the Treasury and six other members. Control of the Note Issue Department, which was established four years previously, was also vested in the Board. The 1924 legislation was the first move towards the gradual evolution of a central bank in Australia.

One year later, the Rural Credits Department was established and authorised to make advances upon the security of primary produce.

SAVINGS DEPARTMENT CHANGEOVER

The next important change was in 1928 when the Savings Department, first established in 1912, became a separate bank within the Commonwealth Bank family.

The "Grim Thirties" was the decade of world depression, 30 per cent. unemployed in Australia, the rise of Nazi Germany, and many under Adolf Hitler, and three major wars, Abyssinia, Sino-Japanese and Spain, which allied to World War II.

Criticism of the banking system, sparked by the depression, led to the Royal Commission on banking between 1935-1937, but opposition in many quarters and then war delayed legislation to carry out the reforms which the Commission recommended.

The 1940's was a decade of world war, destruction and recovery when the Commonwealth Bank played a major part in the organisation of this country's war effort and rehabilitation.

On June 19, 1940, RMS Niagara carrying 295 boxes of gold worth nearly £2,500,000, hit a mine off Whangarei, New Zealand. The gold, owned by the Bank of England, was on its way to America.

277½ BOXES OF GOLD FOUND

The Commonwealth Bank cabled London: "Do you wish us to take any action?" The Bank of England hurriedly cabled back: "Admiralty here suggest enquiries should be made as to the possibility salvage. . . kindly let us have your views." And that led to one of the most famous salvage operations in history and the recovery of 277½ boxes of gold worth £2,400,000.

Early in 1942, when Darwin had been bombed, Singapore had fallen, and Australia feared invasion, plans were ready to evacuate all banks from northern Australia and some records had already been duplicated and sent inland.

At the same time Australia's gold and gold held for other countries was sent in heavily guarded trains from the Commonwealth Bank in Sydney and Melbourne to Broken Hill where it was kept first in the jail cells, then in a specially built strongroom at the jail — popularly believed at the time to be accommodation for top Nazi Rudolf Hess who had flown a fighter to Scotland.

The gold movement was so secret that one Bank officer, told that his mission was "in the nature of a fishing trip", took a fishing rod with him.

NED KELLY TOO EARLY

When the gold train from Melbourne stopped at Jerilderie, a Tasmanian soldier guard, who did not know the mainland, asked a railway employee the town's name.

"This is Jerilderie, where Ned Kelly held up the bank," he was told.

The soldier turned to a fellow guard. "It's a pity Ned Kelly isn't here now."

When H.M.A.S. Perth was sunk in the Battle of Sunda Strait on March 1, 1942, the Paymaster survived with the cruiser's Commonwealth Savings Bank records in his life-jacket. Later, while a prisoner-of-war on the Burma Railway, he buried the records, which were recovered after the atom bomb blasted Hiroshima and Japan surrendered.

During the Pacific War the Commonwealth Bank was banker in Australia to the United States Government. From General Douglas MacArthur's headquarters in Brisbane nearly 60,000 cable remittances over a period of about 18 months were sent to America through the Bank. The greatest number in one day was 3,334 cables.

SILVER SHORTAGE

Silver coin was so short in Australia during the war that American mints produced £6,000,000 worth of silver for us. At one time, in the Townsville, Queensland, area, where there were 150,000 troops and civilians, the total coin reserve in the Townsville branch of the Commonwealth Bank was only 36.

One reason for the shortage of silver was that £400,000 worth was used by American troops in New Guinea to make rings and ornaments. The U.S.

Army did not stop this "traffic" because it gave soldiers something to do and was good for morale.

Valuables worth millions, sent from Singapore and other areas of South East Asia before the Japanese conquest were held by the Bank in Adelaide and Perth. They included diamonds, jade, pearls, rare pieces. Perth office also held more than 40 cases containing the colours, trophies and band instruments of the 1st Battalion, Manchester Regiment, and also top-secret American bomb sights, plus instructions how to destroy them if Japan invaded.

But all that is only a summary of some of the stories. There are many more.

When war ended, another banking landmark was already over the horizon for six days after VJ-Day, August 15, 1945, the important Banking Acts of 1945 came into force.

National Security Regulations had been imposed during the war to control, among other things, banking and money. The new Acts largely continued these Regulations and made law many of the recommendations of the Royal Commission on banking. The legislation confirmed the role of the Commonwealth as Australia's central bank and for the first time directed the General Banking Division to compete actively for business.

"GOLDEN DECADE"

The gold rush decade of the 1850's, when Australia's population first reached 1,000,000 in 1858, was known as the "Golden Decade" and a century later the 1950's were also a time of boom, of high prices, full employment and expansion.

It was also noted for two major landmarks in the history of the Commonwealth Bank.

In 1953 the General Banking Division became the present Commonwealth Trading Bank, and in early 1960 the Commonwealth Bank was separated into two distinct independent units of the Australian banking system.

One unit was the central bank, the Reserve Bank of Australia. The other was the Commonwealth Banking Corporation which included the Commonwealth Trading Bank, the Commonwealth Savings Bank, and a new bank, the Commonwealth Development Bank.

The Commonwealth Trading Bank is one of Australia's biggest banks with 800 or more branches and agencies, 750,000 accounts and deposits of more than £300,000,000.

WORLD'S SECOND LARGEST BANK

The Commonwealth Savings Bank, with 8,000 branches and agencies, 5,000,000 accounts and deposits of over £850,000,000, is the second largest bank of its kind in the world—second only to the Post Office Savings Bank of Great Britain.

The Commonwealth Development Bank, baby of all Australian banks, and a supplementary source of capital for rural and industrial development, is already proving a valuable newcomer to the banking system.

One of the most unusual and valuable "departments" of the Commonwealth Banking Corporation is the Migrant Information Service which employs interpreters who speak 30 languages to help New Australians. Many thousands of inquiries have been handled since the Service started in November, 1958.

In 50 years the Commonwealth—the People's Bank as it was popularly called—has more than justified the optimistic hopes of its founders. Now the largest banking organisation in Australia, its present salaried staff totals in the vicinity of 12,500, and its aggregate resources over £1,250 million. When it was started some people thought it would not last, but it is here, as its history proves, to stay.

Many Happy Returns.

Art Exhibition At Myer Emporium

One of the most unusual art exhibitions yet staged in Australia will open at the Myer Emporium, Melbourne, next Monday (July 23).

The exhibition is of a series of paintings by the noted Australian woman artist, Miss Elaine Haxton, who was commissioned by the Australian Venetian Blind Industry last year to fly around the world painting whatever took her fancy.

The result is a series of paintings and sketches ranging from street scenes in old European cities to colourful glimpses of Eastern centres.

More than 30 of these works are to be exhibited in Myers stores throughout Australia, commencing with the Myer Emporium in Melbourne.

Victorians will also have the opportunity of viewing these works at Myers Chadstone store from September 3 to 8.

The Venetian Blind Industry invited Miss Haxton to choose her own itinerary and as a result she visited 16 countries by B.O.A.C. Jet Comet. Her tour created great interest, especially in some of the Eastern cities, and requests have been received by the Venetian Blind Manufacturers' Federation from New Zealand, Hong Kong and Singapore for an opportunity to exhibit the paintings next year.

Elaine Haxton is one of only a handful of Australian women artists who have received recognition of their outstanding talent.

Her works hang in almost every capital city gallery of Australia and are also to be found in the New York Metropolitan Museum and in private collections throughout the United States and Europe.

Elaine Haxton is also highly regarded for her murals and for her work in theatrical stage and costume designing.

In 1942 she won the coveted Sulman Prize for mural paintings.

Since the war she has been closely associated with the theatrical world, having designed sets and costumes for the Elizabethan Trust performances of "Twelfth Night", "The Boy Friend" and "Madam Butterfly" and the Borovansky Ballet productions of "Nutcracker Suite", "The Three Devils" and "Journey to the Moon".

Some Like Them Hot

Prepared by Pauline Holden, Home Economist.

Hot sandwiches make an excellent meal for Sunday night, and these are quick and easy to prepare. With the many different types of wholemeal and rye breads available, plus the variety of fillings you can use, you will find that they take on one hundred and one guises which your family will really enjoy.

Sandwiches can be made with the normal two slices of bread and filling, one slice with filling, or for the men, three slices stacked one on top of the other.

Fillings and Trimmings.

A filling can be made from anything available in the pantry or refrigerator—chopped ham, sardines, tuna and tomato, asparagus and bacon with cheese sauce, or Danish blue cheese, just to mention a few.

Remember, the more ingredients in the filling the fewer accompaniments necessary. You will, however, find crisp relishes, sliced onion and tomatoes, potato salad, cole slaw, or a tossed green salad go well with hot sandwiches.

Interesting Variations.

A more unusual sandwich is one with two layers, with a custard-like top, or a souffle puff as a crown.

An old American favourite is a Denver sandwich. This consists of a scrambled egg "pancake", which includes onion, green pepper and egg, placed between two slices of bread. This is a delicious way to include in the menu the eggs each member of your family needs every day.

These hot sandwiches are a boon to the impromptu hostess since they can be assembled and baked, grilled or fried in a few minutes, using any ingredients you have at the time.

For a beverage serve steaming hot coffee creamed with evaporated milk.

Tailpiece: "The whole of nature, as has been said, is an conjugation of the verb to eat, in the active and passive."—Dean Inge.

TOMATO AND TUNA SANDWICH.

Ingredients:

- 1 can tuna flaked,
- 1/2 cup diced celery,
- 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper,
- 1 teaspoon salt,
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper,
- 1 cup undiluted evaporated milk, plus
- 1 dessertspoon vinegar,
- 12 slices bread,
- 1/2 cup melted butter,
- 4 large slices tomato,
- 2 tablespoons grated onion,
- 1 cup grated cheese.

Method:

Combine tuna, celery, green pepper, salt, pepper and evaporated milk which has had vinegar added to it. Mix lightly. Trim crusts from bread and brush with butter. Spread four slices with tuna filling. Top with four more slices of bread and cover each slice with slice of tomato and onion. Top each sandwich with the third bread slice and sprinkle with cheese. Bake at 400° F. for 10 minutes. Serves four.

DENVER SANDWICH.

Ingredients:

- 1 egg,
- 1 tablespoon minced onion,
- 1 tablespoon minced green pepper,
- 2 tablespoons undiluted evaporated milk,
- 2 tablespoons crisp bacon or chopped ham,
- 1/2 teaspoon salt,
- Pepper,
- 1 teaspoon butter,
- 2 slices bread or toast, buttered.

Method:

Blend egg, onion, green pepper, evaporated milk, ham, salt and pepper. Melt butter and pour egg mixture into pan, stirring and lifting mixture to cook evenly. Draw mixture to the centre to keep it round. Brown lightly on both sides. Place between bread or toast slices. Serve hot. Serves one.

ASPARAGUS SANDWICH IN A CASSEROLE.

Ingredients:

- 6 slices of bacon,
- 1 can asparagus tips,
- 1 1/2 tablespoons flour,
- 1-2/3 cups (1 large can) undiluted evaporated milk,
- Liquor from asparagus—make up to 1/2 cup with water,
- 2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce,
- 1 1/2 teaspoons prepared mustard,
- 1/2 teaspoon salt,
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper,
- 1 lb. sharp cheese, grated,
- 6 slices buttered bread or toast,
- 6 large slices tomato.

Method:

Cook bacon until crisp. Remove from pan and pour off bacon fat, leaving 1 1/2 tablespoons in pan. Drain asparagus, saving liquor for sauce. Blend in flour with hot bacon fat. Slowly stir in evaporated milk and asparagus liquor. Add seasonings and cook sauce until it thickens, stirring constantly. Add cheese and continue stirring until it is dissolved and the sauce smooth. Place buttered bread or toast in a baking dish or individual ramekins and arrange asparagus on top, then bacon and, lastly, the slices of tomato. Spoon cheese sauce over the top of each slice and bake at 350° for 20 minutes. Serve at once. Serves six.

LABOR VIEWS

It is impossible for local government to flourish and prosper under Liberal governments. Try as they may, local councillors are faced with almost insuperable tasks in satisfying the needs of their areas.

Local government is a hodge-podge with ill-defined boundaries which in themselves create difficulties. Whether they be in country or town, municipalities are faced with the same difficulties.

To list all these problems would take too long. Roads, footpaths, street-lighting are among the worst. There seems to be no end to the problems. Nor is their likely to be under the Bolte or Menzies governments.

Neither of these governments know just precisely what is lacking or what is required in the localities. To meet criticism, the Bolte government occasionally hands out a meagre sum to some long-awaited demand.

However, that depends on whether or not enough pressure has been applied long enough on the Minister concerned.

What is urgently needed is a full-scale conference of all local government authorities to provide a plan for the future. Without that plan there can be no co-ordination between the various levels of government nor among the municipalities themselves.

Local government is of vital importance to a democratic society.

But under the present strain and pressures it could easily break down within a short space of time. Local government needs a thorough overhaul. But it will not come from a government, which is only concerned with today and not with the future.

TABLE TENNIS

Top position in this year's A Grade Winter Pennant should be determined in this week's main match between Kingsville and Maidstone, which will be played at the Table Tennis Centre, Garden Street, Williamstown. At the previous meeting of these clubs Kingsville won narrowly 6/5. All players who will be participating in this match have been selected to represent this Association in the forthcoming Atlas Shield Competition. Kingsville and Maidstone recorded comfortable wins against Albright and Wilson, Seagulls and Footscray.

In B Grade, Ebelfings, A.C. L. and A.G.M. appear likely finalists, whilst Footscray Tec., A.P.C. Socials and Esplanade are fighting for the fourth position, each having 16 Premiership points after round 9.

A ladies' night is held each Monday night at the Table Tennis Centre. All ladies including beginners are invited to attend. Coaching is available free irrespective of the standard of play, and an enjoyable evening is assured.

KOORINGAL GOLF NOTES

BASEBALL
West Newport

The Seniors last week playing away defeated East Brunswick 8-1. In a good game the Seniors combined well and played good baseball. T. Michael on the mound again pitched extremely well to J. Michael and well backed up by good fielding held East Brunswick to their one run.

West were the first to score with 2 runs in the first innings and one in the 3rd. Then East Brunswick scored their first run in the fourth innings but West batting well scored another 4 runs in their 4th innings to win the game.

W/N 2 0 1 4 0 1 0 - 8:

Highlights of the game were the double play through J. Michael at Home and R. Sutton on 3rd base and the two flies taken by R. Scott at right field. This win was a really good team effort by West as they are now fighting their way back into the four. Special mention must go to M. Erskine for his very much improved running between bases he also scored 4 of the 8 runs.

Best: M. Erskine, R. Scott, K. Michael.

Safe hits (2 each) J. Woodsell, T. Michael (1 each) A. Parker, K. Michael, M. Erskine and R. Sutton.

MORE TENNIS COURTS TO BE CONSTRUCTED

The Municipal Association of Victoria has advised the Shire Council that as a result of discussions with the Local Government Department the subsidies granted for recreational purposes have been extended to include basketball courts and tennis courts which are constructed on Crown or Council property.

At Tuesday's Council meeting the Shire Secretary said that each year a subsidy up to £800 on a two-for-one basis had been available for development works at Grant Reserve. The toilets were constructed with such, and recently the front fence and top dressing on the hockey ground were covered by the subsidy for the year ending June 30, 1962. This was the first time, however, that tennis and basketball had been included.

Cr. S. McIntosh moved that application be made for the subsidy for the current year.

The Shire Engineer, Mr. R. Simmons, said application had been made for extra courts on Grant Reserve, and he suggested the subsidy could be used for the construction of public courts.

Cr. den Dulk suggested the courts be constructed elsewhere in the Shire. Cr. Ginfier thought it may be a good idea to construct them near the High School or Technical School. However, Cr. McIntosh said it might be better to have them near the existing courts, as he felt there would be less chance of vandalism if all the courts were in the same area.

It was finally decided to hold over the choice of location till the next Council meeting to give Councillors time to think the matter over.

APPLICATION WITHDRAWN

An application for permission to erect a service station on three blocks of land in Millers Road, North Altona, has been withdrawn.

This was announced by the Shire Secretary at last week's Council meeting. At the previous Council meeting the application was opposed on the motion of Cr. S. M. McIntosh, seconded by Cr. J. Giffner. The main objections were that the area was already well catered for by existing service stations, and that, as the land was situated between two schools, it would be far better to have houses on the blocks. The land is zoned residential.

A demonstration of mouth-to-mouth and mouth-to-nose resuscitation was given by Red Cross workers from Divisional Headquarters to members and friends of the Presbyterian Guild on Wednesday night.

Mrs. Hope, President of the Guild, introduced the speaker, Mrs. Fairley, and her two assistants. After the lecture and the demonstration by the Red Cross workers, everyone present was given the opportunity to try this method of resuscitation on a plastic dummy. Although in theory it seems easy the participants found this was not so and Mrs. Fairley and her assistants were very patient in showing their faults and correcting them.

Many questions were asked re first-aid and Mrs. Fairley enquired if there was an active local branch of St. John's Ambulance Brigade.

At the conclusion of the evening, Mrs. Hope thanked Mrs. Fairley and the other two demonstrators for a most interesting and informative lecture.

Notice To Charitable And Community Welfare Organisations

The Apex Club of Altona will shortly be planning its community service programme for year ending 30th June, 1963, and will be pleased to consider written applications for our manual assistance from organisations which come under the charitable or welfare category.

Applications, which close 31st August, 1962, should be addressed to the Secretary, Apex Club of Altona, P.O. Box 24, W 18, and they will be considered in the light of our commitments, if any, at the particular time our assistance is sought.

Political parties should not apply as Apex is strictly non-political, non-sectarian. Although the assistance which we envisage is not financial, we may be prepared to roster our members to aid fund-raising projects within the district.
